

Letter of Interest in the
TTS Endoscopic Suturing Project by the Start-up Chairmonkey SL

[Physician's Name]
[Specialty and Institution]

I, [Physician's Name], hereby express my interest in staying informed about the development of the TTS endoscopic suturing system led by Chairmonkey SL, and, if possible, collaborating on this project, subject to the device's fabrication and availability, as well as compliance with applicable legal and ethical requirements.

I believe this project has great potential to improve suturing procedures in the field of endoscopy. Should the device become available, I would be interested in:

1. Participating in clinical validation studies to evaluate its safety and efficacy.
2. Testing the device on real patients, always adhering to the relevant legal and ethical frameworks.
3. Contributing my expertise in endoscopy to the analysis and further development of the product.

I acknowledge that this letter does not constitute a legal or financial commitment and is solely intended to express my professional interest in staying informed about the progress of this project and potentially collaborating on its development.

Sincerely,
